MONTHLY SCRIPTURES & MORAL VALUES PLAN

Overview: Focus on Torah principles through weekly activities and monthly practice.
Dedicate one day each week to deepen understanding and instill habits.

Your children and your crops will be blessed.

Deuteronomy 28:4

Wherever you go and whatever you do,
you will be blessed.

Deuteronomy 28:6

Lily's mom reminded her that obedience leads to blessings, as we learn in the Torah, and the Most High was blessing the fruits of her hands.

Lily and her mom recite Deuteronomy chapter 28, verse 4, where God said, "Your children and your crops will be blessed," and verse 6, "Wherever you go and whatever you do, you will be blessed."

Lily beamed with gratitude, knowing that her patience and obedience had created a beautiful garden, and now she would enjoy the blessings of her diligence and obedience.

Lily's Blossoming Garden

A cheerful girl named Lily resided in a quiet neighborhood. She found immense joy in her backyard, which nurtured her thriving imagination.

One sunny day, Lily was taken by surprise when her mom proposed to plant a garden, and she eagerly accepted the unexpected challenge, her heart brimming with excitement.

Fold

Excitement sparkled in Lily's eyes as her mom handed her a small shovel, flower seeds, and simple instructions.

Her mom instructed her to dig small holes, plant the seeds, and water gently, which Lily eagerly acknowledged.

With each hole she dug in the soil, Lily held the promise of a vibrant flower, showcasing her dedication to the task.

Fold

Despite the temptation of a playful butterfly fluttering by, Lily remained focused on her garden, demonstrating her commitment.

She obeyed by stating, 'We have to finish first,' while resisting the distraction.

After days of diligent care, Lily's garden bloomed with colorful flowers.

One evening, Lily's family gathered around the flourishing garden, and her mom congratulated her on the beautiful garden, emphasizing that following instructions leads to wonderful surprises.
